Richard Atkins School, New Park Road, SW2 – Heat Pumps:

Dear Mr Clawson,

In response to your recent letter about revisions to the above application, our comments are as follows:

We are generally in favour of installing energy-saving measures at local school sites, subject to sympathetic location of external plant or equipment.

This school is a fine example of the classic London School Board format, with 3 main storeys. The main architectural interest is on the frontages to New Park Road and Kingswood Road, which are not directly affected.

The recent proposed revisions will further reduce the visual impact of the external plant and are therefore supported.

Yours sincerely,

Hon. Secretary
